SOFTWARE ENGINEER STUDENT

WORK EXPERIENCE

I'm Thisura Liyanage a passionate software engineering student at the Institute of Java Software Engineering. I am deeply enthusiastic about crafting innovative solutions and embracing the ever-evolving landscape of technology.

Throughout my academic journey, I've actively engaged in various projects, honing my skills in software development, problem-solving, and collaboration. Whether it's building web applications, mobile apps, or diving into the depths of data science, I'm always eager to explore new challenges and push the boundaries of what's possible.
